

What do you know about brainstorming?

Let's look for a little Inspiration...

Generates
as many ideas
as possible

Requires open minds, markers and poster paper

Brainstorming

Versatile

Add new ideas to the status quo

Not tied to current reality

Can be used at almost every step

Set a time limit

Quantity is more important than quality

Share every thought that occurs to you

Focus

Rules

Make no
evaluative
statements

Do not edit or combine
ideas

Be
comfortable with silence

Listen carefully to others

Think, pair, share encourages
more reflection

Force
field analysis is structured brainstorming

Brainstorming & Other Techniques

Can be used with color coding

A Final Thought

“Brainstorming all possible solutions brings out greater creativity and can counteract the ‘only one right or best way’ thinking that is so prevalent.” (Holcomb, p. 83)

What does it mean to be a lifelong learner?

One more tool...